A free trial version is included, you can select the presets and download the demo at your own pace. It's a nice bundle.I'm not sure how it went from me calling out Sherri "Yeah! Noooo! I don't have a husband, and I don't have a boyfriend" on 2/21/09 to me ending up watching her supercharged car dance around that burning house, but I can't think of a greater compliment than that one. The show is kinda... I don't want to say bad, because I enjoy most of it, but it's just... not the show. I'm glad that she's gone now, but she's so unprofessional, she should not have left the country. She's proven that she has no shame. She's not even a good manager. I actually enjoyed her time on Dancing with the Stars! And BTW, she was married and had a boyfriend, they were just never "officially" married and the boyfriend never made it on the show. I did too. She looked amazing in the long dresses, and the outfits on that show were pretty short, and they matched the music well. And yes, her husband was there, even though it looked like he never made it to the US. Yeah, she's a big fake in my book, even if she's popular. It's like she's giving the award of popularity to herself. What people don't realize is that most of the people who write about her are fans and all her "misogynistic/racist/isn't she just a user" comments are made because she's either mad about how the show treated her, or she's just an attention whore who likes to drop in things to make it look like she's important. Well, I think she's important... And I don't think people know how smart she is. She's not stupid, but she doesn't care much for school. I heard her say she only went through about 2 months of high school, so she didn't graduate.
